The “New Hampshire Forum On The Future” presents the second in a series of breakfast forums on the future of our state. Charlie Arlinghaus and Doug Hall direct New Hampshire’s premier think tanks focusing on the policies and developments in New Hampshire that are moving the State. Their research and recommendations on a wide variety of topics are used by government, business and education leaders throughout the state. They will challenge our perceptions and assumptions about New Hampshire in a constructive attempt to give clarity to where we’re going and how we’re getting there.
