A diverse group of New Hampshire’s young professionals give their candid views on the challenges and opportunities facing the State where they have chosen to live and work. From where they sit as emerging young leaders in the State, this engaging group of 25 to 40 year-olds will present and then analyze New Hampshire’s strengths, its weaknesses, its opportunities, and its threats as they relate to sustaining New Hampshire’s way of life and its prosperity.

Demographically, this group of New Hampshire’s emerging leaders represents the business, education, and non-profit sectors; the entrepreneur and the working parent; and its geographic regions.

It promises to be one of the most engaging Forums in the six years that the NH Forum on the Future has been in business.
